Imagine there's a kid in one of your classes named Jeff. You know him, but not very well. You notice that he is friends with one of your friends on the social networking site MyBook. His profile is public, so you decide to check it out.

Some information posted in Jeff's profile is below. Your group will be assigned to analyze one topic on this profile and answer the corresponding questions.

Topic 1 of Jeff's profile: Privacy

Al Anderson says...

Seems Matt's parents are fighting again — he's been on my couch all week. Any chance you could house him for a night or two?

1. Was it appropriate for Al to post personal information about Matt on Jeff's profile? Is there any potential benefit or harm in having Matt's story shared online?
2. When you see Matt at school tomorrow, will you treat him any differently? What effect might seeing his personal information online have on how you think about or treat him offline (i.e., face-to-face)?
3. Are there any other ways that Al could have used digital technology in trying to help his friend Matt?
4. What would you have done if you were in Al's place? What would you do if you were Jeff? How would you react if you were Matt?

Topic 2 of Jeff's profile: Self-Expression and Identity

Rosy Ramirez says...

Have you seen Lisa's new profile pic?? Lol, she's trying to be all Goth for her online "friends" or whatever.

Tori Torres says...

OMG, Lisa's such a freak

1. Why do you think Lisa may have chosen a new "Goth" profile picture? Is there any harm in her presenting a different identity online?
2. Imagine that Lisa's online friends had never met her face-to-face, and that once they did, they discovered she doesn't actually dress Goth. How do you think they would react?
3. Why might Rosy and Tori be reacting negatively to their friend's new picture? Is it right for them to respond the way they did?
4. What would you have done if you had seen a profile picture like Lisa's, that didn't seem real? How would you react to Rosy and Tori's postings if you were Lisa?

Topic 3 of Jeff's profile: Connected Culture

Pat says...

Can you believe the dumb assignment Garrett gave us? You should totally join our I Hate Mr. Garrett page: <http://honkifyouhategarrett/fh>.

1. What do you think of Pat and his friends' creating such a page?
2. Do you think Jeff has a responsibility to address or comment on Pat's post? What are some things he might do?
3. How would you react if you really liked Mr. Garrett, and you saw this post from Pat? Would you do anything about it? If so, what would you do?
4. How would you react if you saw a page like this created about you? What would you do if you saw a page like this about a friend or a teacher?

Topic 4 of Jeff's profile: Respecting Creative Work

Subject: Irritated...AGAIN

posted by Jeff at 7:30pm | comments (3)

So, it has happened again. For Garrett's art class we had to do these stupid online group comic projects. Not only did my horrible partners stick me with all of the work, but I just found out that one of them emailed my comic to her friend in the other class who ripped it off! NOT cool.

Check it out – here's a piece of mine on the left, theirs on the right.

1. What do you think of the student work on the right? Do you think Jeff's work inspired the other artist, or that the other artist plagiarized his work?
2. What if the comic artist on the right had included a credit line that said "Based on a concept by Jeff," and asked Jeff's permission to use it? Would that still be plagiarism? Would it be ethical?
3. Clearly, Jeff is bothered that someone "ripped off" his comic. What if, in a written entry about music, he provides a link for downloading a new album for free? Do you think the two things are similar or different? Why?
4. What would you do if you were in Jeff's situation and someone else had plagiarized your work? What if you knew about an instance in which someone else's work had been plagiarized?

Your group's challenge is to choose a topic and then design a website that gives teens a space to exchange advice on that topic. This is a peer-advice site, which means that the site creators don't give out the advice; instead, users ask for and receive advice from one another. Your website should include features and tools that will help foster positive community among its teen members — for example, networking, blogging, photo sharing, user reviews, and crowdsourcing.

First, review guidelines for building an online community. Then use those guidelines to answer these questions.

What is the purpose of your website?

What type of users will your website seek out, and how will you attract them?

What social media features will your website have for fostering community? Choose four features and explain how you will use each one. Also, explain why you believe each will help build a sense of community.

How will you ensure that your community stays positive? How will you encourage everyone to participate?

What is your website called?

On a large piece of drawing paper, make a drawing of the website's home page. Make sure the drawing highlights the social media features you listed above. If you have time, you can design some of the linked pages too.

Risky Online Relationships

Directions

Read the story below. Then follow the directions on the next page.

Sheyna's first year of high school is off to a rough start. She was a CIT (counselor in training) at a day camp this summer and loved every minute of it. But now Sheyna misses camp and feels like she can't relate to her school friends anymore.

Every evening, Sheyna IMs (instant messages) Nick, the assistant director of her camp. He just graduated from college and lives a few hours away from her. Nick and Sheyna didn't know each other that well, but they exchanged screen names at the end of the summer. Sheyna talks to Nick about how much she misses camp and why she's frustrated with her friends. Nick is funny, flirty, and great at giving advice. "Those girls sound so immature," he tells her. "You might as well be in college. Seriously. You act way cooler than any 14-year-old I know."

A few weeks after school starts, Nick starts flirting with Sheyna more obviously:

kNicksFan93 did you know i thought about you at camp all the time?
i like couldn't take my eyes off you sheybey101 :) why didn't you say anything!?

kNicksFan93 lol u were a CIT kNicksFan93 ...and i want to make sure u will still be a CIT next summer.... so we can't tell anyone about this...

sheybey101 ummm i better be a CIT next summer! jk. (but seriously.)

kNicksFan93 parents freak out about this kind of stuff kNicksFan93 u don't want me to lose my job, right?

sheybey101 of course not!

kNicksFan93 that's my girl. so glad that we can trust each other.

sheybey101:

Nick then asks Sheyna to send him some pictures of her in her bathing suit at camp. Sheyna is flattered, but it makes her feel a little uncomfortable. She decides to send the pictures anyway. Nick always talks about how mature she seems, and she doesn't want to make him think otherwise.

One day after soccer practice, Sheyna's best friend, Grace, asks to borrow her phone. Without trying to snoop, Grace sees a few sexts (sexually explicit text messages) between Sheyna and Nick. Grace doesn't know much about Nick, which is strange because she and Sheyna usually tell each other about their crushes. Grace decides to ask Sheyna about her relationship with Nick.

Directions

Based on the story you just read, answer the following questions as if you were Sheyna. Write your responses in the spaces provided.

1. How did you meet Nick, and how often do you talk to him?

2. Is Nick older than you? By how much?

3. Has Nick ever asked you to keep your relationship secret? In what way?

4. Have you ever felt uncomfortable with anything that Nick has asked you to do?

Now answer the following questions as if you were Grace, not Sheyna.

1. Does it seem like Nick is manipulating Sheyna? Why or why not?

2. Why might this be a sensitive issue for Sheyna?

3. What advice would you give Sheyna about her relationship with Nick?
